RARITAN, N.J. – April 29, 2010 – Premier Woodwork and Design announced a new brand identity as the company adds a new suite of comprehensive architectural and manufacturing consulting services to its extensive experience in handcrafted architectural woodwork and fine finish carpentry.

Now known as The Premier Services, the new vision for the company will be more hands on during the early construction stages providing architects, developers, builders, and homeowners the opportunity to have a one-stop firm focused on the architectural work, the manufacturing work, and of course the popular high-end woodwork of the projects.

“With my extensive experience in project management, I wanted our firm to take a more hands on role of managing subcontractors and serving as a key project manager,” said John Majcher with The Premier Services. “It allows our customers to have a single point of contact on their major projects and allows us to the control quality standards better to meet our firm’s high reputation for excellence.”

Majcher – an Associate Member of the Central Chapter of the New Jersey Society of Architects and the American Institute of Architects with a degree in architecture and a construction background – can serve as a lead project manager for light commercial, residential, and professional building construction projects.

“We offer high quality owner’s construction representative services,” he said. “We can inspect the project site; offer recommendations; assist homeowners with the construction process; aid the subcontractors with the specialty items, and even document the progress for homeowners and lenders to see the project to completion. After site and building inspections, we can also issue funding recommendations to the banks and private lenders when reviewing a contractor’s payment application. We offer it all in one place and make it easy for developers, builders, and homeowners to create their dream real estate project.”
